with evidence emerging from around the globe about the importance of nature to human health and happiness, it is little wonder that people are seeking out the natural world with increasing purpose and frequency. Many of us are learning from this new scientific research and paying attention to the reality that we are part of nature, not separate from it.

At Greystone, we have long been interested in nature and in how we can ensure our children—and our children's children—will have a natural world to thrive in. Our Summer/Fall 2019 list of books brings new approaches to the subject we believe is our core mandate. What can an animal as small and hidden as a mole, as presented in the brilliant writing of a poet and past molecatcher, teach us about nature? And what do we learn about ourselves when we read the stunning accounts of a park ranger who witnessed wolves living out their lives in Yellowstone Park every day for fifteen years?

The launch of Greystone Kids this year provides us with a new opportunity to work with writers and illustrators who are committed to bringing nature to the minds of young readers. Whether it is a walk in the woods with forester Peter Wohlleben, an Inner Mongolian tale about the relationship between a baby moose and a hunter, the story of a touching bond between a young girl and a crow, or a wolf's-eye view of human-induced danger, Greystone Kids will echo the long-established importance of nature for the adult program.

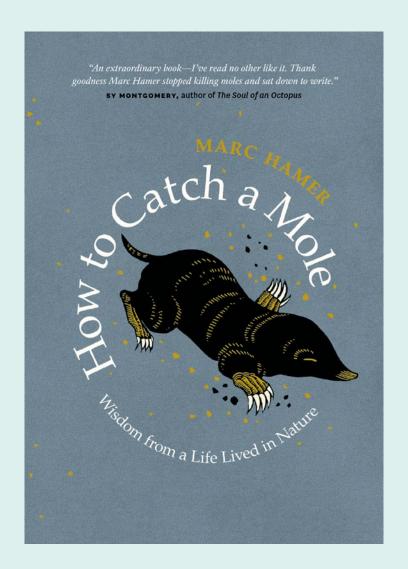

Enjoy your trip through our many new offerings, included in the pages that follow. Then pick up a good book, find a patch of grass or a bed of leaves, relax, and take in the natural world around you.

HOW TO CATCH A MOLE

Wisdom from a Life Lived in Nature

MARC HAMER

At once a highly original memoir and an ode to the mole, this unexpected—and delightfully strange—book reveals, at its core, a rare vision of the natural world: as an essential and precious source of sorrow and joy.

Hardcover, paper over board ISBN 978-1-77164-479-2 Ebook also available 5.25 x 7.5 • 208 pages 12 full-page B&w illustrations

"It is rare to encounter such respect and understanding of nature." - ROSAMUND YOUNG, author of The Secret Life of Cows

KNEELING IN A muddy field, clutching something soft and blue-black, Marc Hamer vows he will stop trapping moles—forever. In this earnest, understated, and sublime work of nonfiction literature, the retired mole-catcher grapples with the ethics of his former profession. He also shares what led him to this strange career: from sleeping among hedges as a homeless teen, to toiling on the railway, to weeding windswept gardens in Wales. Hamer infuses his wanderings with radiant poetry and stark, simple observations on nature's oft-ignored details. He also reveals how to catch a mole—a craft long kept secret by its masters—and burrows into the unusual lives of his muses. Moles, we learn, are colorblind. Their blood holds unusual amounts of carbon dioxide. Their vast tunnel networks are intricate and deceptive. And, like Hamer, they work alone.

MARC HAMER was born in the North of England and moved to Wales more than thirty years ago. After spending a period homeless, then working on the railway, he returned to education and studied fine art. He has worked in art galleries, marketing, graphic design, as a magazine editor and taught creative writing in a prison before becoming a gardener and mole-catcher.

EVERY LITTLE SCRAP AND WONDER

A Small-Town Childhood

CARLA FUNK

"With gentle irony, Funk unfolds her child's longing—'straining to become a star'—in a place both gritty and unyielding, where scars and songs are one and the same. A lovely stitchery of childhood." – BETH POWNING, author of The Sea Captain's Wife and A Measure of Light

From an award-winning essayist and acclaimed poet comes this radiant, observant, and warmly funny memoir about childhood, family, and small-town life.

CARLA FUNK GREW up in Vanderhoof, Canada, a place of logging trucks and God, pellet guns and parables. Every Sunday, she sat with her mother and brother in the same pew at the Mennonite church while her dad stayed home with his cigarettes and a fridge full of whiskey. In these tender, humorous stories, Funk stitches together the wondrous and the mundane: making snow angels and carrying sacks of potatoes, tossing pig bladders like footballs, and vying for the Christmas pageant spotlight. Part ode to childhood, part love letter to rural life, Every Little Scrap and Wonder offers an original take on the memories, stories, and traditions we all carry within ourselves, whether we planned to or not.

CARLA FUNK was born and raised in one of the earliest Mennonite settlements in British Columbia, Canada. She is the author of five books of poetry, the former poet laureate for the City of Victoria, and a recipient of the Malahat Review's Constance Rooke Nonfiction Prize. She lives in Victoria, BC.

IN THE VALLEYS OF THE NOBLE BEYOND

In Search of the Sasquatch

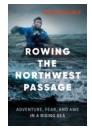

- "Totally gripping and unputdownable. Destined to be a classic of adventure."
- JASON WEBSTER, author of A Death in Valencia
- "A captivating tale of the search for a mythical creature, In the Valleys of the Noble Beyond is also a story about us—and our enduring desire to believe in something big, really big, that is out there lurking."
- -HARLEY RUSTAD, author of Big Lonely Doug

This evocative work of nature writing traverses the world's largest temperate rainforest to uncover the legend of the Sasquatch.

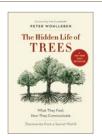

CANADA'S GREAT BEAR Rainforest is home to trees as tall as skyscrapers and moss as thick as carpet. According to the people who live there, another giant may dwell in these woods. For centuries, locals have reported encounters with the Sasquatch—a species of hairy man-ape that could inhabit this pristine wilderness. Driven by his childhood obsession with the Sasquatch, but remaining skeptical, journalist John Zada seeks out the people and stories surrounding this enigmatic creature. He speaks with local Indigenous peoples and a Sasquatch-studying scientist. He hikes with a former bear hunter. Soon, he finds himself on quest for something infinitely more complex, cutting across questions of human perception, scientific inquiry, Indigenous traditions, the environment, and the power of the human imagination to believe in—or to outright dismiss—one of nature's last great mysteries.

JOHN ZADA is a writer and photographer whose work has appeared in the Globe and Mail, Toronto Star, Explore, CBC, Al Jazeera, BBC, Los Angeles Review of Books, and elsewhere. He is a writer at CBC News Network and lives in Toronto, Canada.

"A must read for anyone interested in wolves and other nature. Wolves and humans are lucky to have Rick McIntyre." - MARC BEKOFF

Book One in The Alpha Wolves of Yellowstone: A Trilogy

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK was once home to an abundance of wild wolves—but park rangers killed the last of their kind in the 1920s. Decades later, the rangers brought them back, with the first wolves arriving from Canada in 1995.

This is the incredible true story of one of those wolves.

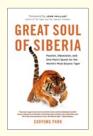

Wolf 8 struggles at first—he is smaller than the other pups, and often bullied—but soon he bonds with an alpha female whose mate was shot. An unusually young alpha male, barely a teenager in human years, Wolf 8 rises to the occasion, hunting skillfully, and even defending his family from the wolf who killed his father. But soon he faces a new opponent: his adopted son, who mates with a violent alpha female. Can Wolf 8 protect his valley without harming his protégé?

Authored by a renowned wolf researcher and gifted storyteller, The Rise of Wolf 8 marks an original and bold new trilogy, which will transform our view of wolves forever.

RICK MCINTYRE has worked in national parks for more than fifty years and has recorded more sightings of wild wolves than any other person. For fifteen years, he rose before dawn every day to observe the Yellowstone wolves. Now retired, he has spoken about the Yellowstone Wolves with news outlets such as 60 Minutes and NPR's Snap Judgement, and is profiled extensively in American Wolf by Nate Blakeslee.

ROBERT REDFORD—actor, director, and producer—has been a passionate art and environmental activist since the early 1970s. He has been an advocate for climate change awareness, clean energy, and habitat protection for over forty years.

STRANGERS IN THE HOUSE

A Story of Bigotry and Belonging

CANDACE SAVAGE

"Beautifully written and impeccably researched, Strangers in the House is a remarkable achievement."

-ROY MACGREGOR, author of Canadians: A Portrait of a Country and Its People

"Strangers in the House puts the past in conversation with the present to show how certain events and decisions can have a ripple effect that lasts for generations."

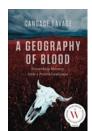

-GUILLAUME MORISSETTE, author of The Original Face

A renowned author investigates the dark and shocking history of her prairie house.

WHEN RESEARCHING THE first occupant of her Saskatoon home, Candace Savage discovers a family more fascinating and heartbreaking than she expected. Napoléon Sureau dit Blondin built the house in the 1920s, an era when Frenchspeakers like him were deemed "undesirable" by the political and social elite, who sought to populate the Canadian prairies with WASPS only. In an atmosphere poisoned by the Orange Order and then by the Ku Klux Klan, Napoléon and his young family did their best to disguise their "foreignness." In Strangers in the House, Savage scours public records and historical accounts and interviews several of Napoléon's descendants, including his youngest son, to reveal a family story marked by bigotry and fear of difference. In the process, she examines a troubling episode in Canadian history, one with surprising relevance today.

CANDACE SAVAGE is the author of several bestselling, award-winning books. She is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and in 1994 was inducted into the Honor Roll of the Rachel Carson Institute, Chatham College, in Pittsburgh. She shares her time between Eastend and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

VOICE OF REBELLION

How Mozhdah Jamalzadah Brought Hope to Afghanistan

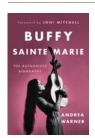

ROBERTA STALEY

The first-ever biography of Mozhdah Jamalzadah: refugee, pop singer, and champion of women's rights.

MANY HAVE TRIED to silence her, but Mozhdah Jamalzadah remains the most powerful female voice of her generation in Afghanistan, boldly speaking out about women's rights. Voice of Rebellion charts her incredible journey, including arriving in Canada as a child refugee, setting her father's protest poem to music (and making it a #1 hit), performing that song for Michelle and Barack Obama, and, finally, being invited to host her own show in Afghanistan. The Mozhdah Show earned her the nickname "The Oprah of Afghanistan" and tackled taboo subjects like divorce and domestic violence for the first time in the country's history. But even as her words resonated with women and families, Mozhdah received death threats—some of them serious—and was eventually advised to return to Canada. Traversing the Middle East and North America, Voice of Rebellion profiles a devoted singer and activist who continues to fight for change, even from afar.

ROBERTA STALEY is a magazine editor, writer, and documentary filmmaker. She has reported from Afghanistan, El Salvador, Haiti, Cambodia, Israel, and more countries around the world. Her award-winning documentary, Mightier Than the Sword, reveals how Afghan women in media are working to overcome a culture of silence and invisibility.

THE MAKING OF YOU

The Incredible Journey from Cell to Human KATHARINA VESTRE

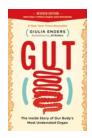

"Few dramas are as fascinating as the one that plays out in the human womb. Embryologist Katharina Vestre's engrossing primer gives us the script, from the harrowing journey of sperm towards egg, to that first gulp of air in the dazzle outside. [Vestre] has the knack of sparking wonder." - NATURE

A quirky and inspired guide to your very own origin story.

THIS ENLIGHTENING AND irresistible book for adults explains how you were made—not with the standard euphemisms told to us as children, but with vivid, exacting prose that unveils all the complex processes we never knew produced human life. With a brilliant talent for thoughtful, charming science writing, Katharina Vestre takes us from cell to human and shares surprising facts along the way-such as that sperm have a sense of smell and that hiccups were likely inherited from our ancient, underwater ancestors. She also shows why gender is more complicated than we think and reveals the questions scientists still ponder about how we came to be. A miniature drama of cosmic significance, this is the incredible story of you.

KATHARINA VESTRE is a doctoral research fellow at the Department of Biosciences at the University of Oslo, Norway. The Making of You is her first book.

SCATTERBRAIN

How the Mind's Mistakes Make Humans Creative, Innovative, and Successful

HENNING BECK

In this mind-bending book, an esteemed neuroscientist explains why perfectionism is pointless—and argues that mistakes, missteps, and flaws are the keys to success.

REMEMBER THAT TIME you screwed up simple math or forgot the name of your favorite song? What if someone told you that such embarrassing "brain farts" are actually secret weapons, proof of your superiority to computers and A1? In Scatterbrain, we learn that boredom awakens the muse, distractions spark creativity, and misjudging time creates valuable memories, among other benefits of our faulty minds. Throughout, award-winning neuroscientist Henning Beck's hilarious asides and brain-boosting advice make for delightful reading of the most cutting-edge neuroscience our brains will (maybe never) remember.

HENNING BECK received his PhD in neuroscience from the Graduate School of Cellular & Molecular Neuroscience, University of Tübingen, and holds an international diploma in Project Management from the University of California Berkeley. He is a frequent lecturer, workshop leader, science slam speaker, and consultant on topics such as neuroscience and creativity. He currently lives in Frankfurt am Main, Germany.

ALMOST HUMAN

The Story of Julius, the Chimpanzee Caught between Two Worlds

ALFRED FIDJESTØL

A moving and revealing biography of Norway's most famous chimpanzee.

JULIUS IS A national celebrity, the inspiration behind pop hits and bestselling books. He's also a chimpanzee, born in captivity but raised in a zookeeper's home after his own mother rejects him. Julius's new parents change his diapers and comfort him when he has nightmares, and their daughters play with him. But soon they must reintroduce Julius to the zoo, a challenging task that brings new learnings on primate behavior and the dangers of animal celebrity. Alternately humorous and heartbreaking, Almost Human shows that primates are more like us than we once thought possible. It also charts the transformation of one zoo over time: from a small operation of animals behind bars to a fast-growing attraction coming to terms with twenty-first-century views on animal rights and welfare.

ALFRED FIDJESTØL has published several critically acclaimed biographies and history books about humans and cultural institutions. In 2014, Fidjestøl became the first nonfiction author ever to receive Gyldendal's Hunger Award. He was awarded the Språkprisen Prize in 2017. He lives in Norway.

JULIUS lives as a content alpha chimpanzee and father of two within a community of nine chimpanzees. He will celebrate his fortieth birthday in 2019.

WINTERLUST

Finding Beauty in the Fiercest Season

BERND BRUNNER

Foreword by MARK KURLANSKY

"Brunner masterfully does in words what resilient and adventurous people have done in their lives for centuries; he finds beauty in blizzards and ice and the crystallized enchantment of snow."

- DAN EGAN, Pulitzer finalist and author of The Death and Life of the Great Lakes

A sweeping, beautiful survey of all things winter, from ancient traditions to modern pastimes, and the creatures and people who endure winter's harshest expression.

IN WINTERLUST, A farmer painstakingly photographs five thousand snowflakes, each one dramatically different from the next. Indigenous peoples thrive on frozen terrain, where famous explorers perish. Icicles reach deep underwater, then explode. Rooms warmed by crackling fires fill with scents of cinnamon, cloves, and pine. Skis carve into powdery slopes, and iceboats traverse glacial lakes. This lovingly illustrated meditation on winter entwines the spectacular with the everyday, expertly capturing the essence of a beloved yet dangerous season, which is all the more precious in an era of climate change.

BERND BRUNNER'S writings have appeared in publications around the world including Lapham's Quarterly, the Paris Review, Quartz, the Times Literary Supplement, and the Wall Street Journal. His acclaimed books have been reviewed in the New York Times and the New Yorker, among others. Brunner lives in Istanbul and Berlin.

MARK KURLANSKY is a New York Times-bestselling author and a creative writing instructor. He has written plays, newspaper and magazine articles, and over thirty books, including Milk!, Salt, and Cod. A native New Englander, he is well acquainted with both the rigors and rewards of winter.

A striking collection of iconic sports photographs—from local heroes to international icons, pickup games to sold-out stadiums.

hosting of large-scale sporting events, and with the impressive development of world-class athletes, British Columbia boasts a vibrant and rich history of sports over the past century. Vancouver Sun and Province photojournalists and other local photographers have had a front-row seat to the action, producing sports photographs with the power to astonish. From Indigenous canoe racers and sumo wrestlers to homegrown champions such as Nancy Greene and Steve Nash to amateur athletes and sports fans, the two hundred photographs in Magic Moments in Bc Sports capture an integral part of the province's identity, in all its diverse, cheering, and face-painted glory.

KATE BIRD helped manage the photograph collection at the Vancouver Sun and the Province for twenty-five years. She authored Vancouver in the Seventies and City on Edge and has conducted research for numerous books including the award-winning Making Headlines: 100 Years of the Vancouver Sun.

EREBUS

One Ship, Two Epic Voyages, and the Greatest Naval Mystery of All Time

MICHAEL PALIN

Driven by a passion for travel, a fascination with history, and a love of ships and the sea, former Monty Python stalwart and beloved television globe-trotter Michael Palin explores the world of HMS Erebus, last seen on an ill-fated voyage to chart the Northwest Passage.

"Beyond terrific. I didn't want it to end." - BILL BRYSON

"Cracking good reading." - PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

"Carefully researched and well-crafted... brings the story of a ship vividly to life."

— THE TIMES UK

"Palin's account is full of wit and sympathy." - THE GUARDIAN

"A well-written and captivating examination of the Erebus' adventures."

- WASHINGTON TIMES

"With this irresistible and often harrowing account, Michael Palin makes a convincing case that one heroic little ship embodied the golden age of polar exploration better than any other: HMS Erebus." — JOHN GEIGER, co-author of Frozen in Time: The Fate of the Franklin Expedition

MICHAEL PALIN has written and starred in numerous television programs and films, from Monty Python to A Fish Called Wanda. He is also an acclaimed author, documentary filmmaker, and explorer. A former president of the Royal Geographical Society, his journeys have taken him to the North and South Poles, the Sahara Desert, the Himalayas, and Brazil. He lives in London, England.

IN THIS FULL-COLOR, visually rich coffee table book, cult Canadian footwear designer John Fluevog gives fans and fashionistas a behind-the-scenes look into the brand's evolution and his own creative process. Echoing the eclectic style of Fluevog's whimsical and witty zine-style catalogs, the book features Fluevog's own design sketches and handwritten messages, blended with stories, graphics, and previously unpublished photographs from the Fluevog archives.

Seven narrative chapters telling the Fluevog story are interspersed with standalone chapters devoted to themes such as Fluevog's sources of inspiration, the artisanal shoemaking process, and the brand's global community of diehard "Fluevogers," including celebrities such as Madonna, Lady Gaga, and Alice Cooper. An exuberant celebration of creativity and individualism, the book also pays homage to the wild and beautiful John Fluevog shoes themselves through lush photography and hand-drawn illustrations.

JOHN FLUEVOG is an independent designer and retailer of forward-thinking footwear and accessories. Since 1970, he has been steadfast in creating "unique soles for unique souls" that have been seen everywhere from the feet of Madonna and Jack White to the runways of high fashion. Fluevog has been recognized as the Canadian Footwear Industry's Shoe Person of the Year, and John Fluevog Shoes was named one of the world's most innovative fashion companies by Fast Company. Fluevog lives in Vancouver, Canada.

THE AI-POWERED ENTERPRISE

Harness the Power of Ontologies to Make Your Business Smarter, Faster, and More Profitable

SETH EARLEY

Why ontologies are the secret weapon that makes artificial intelligence truly smart about your business, and how to use them to create a powerful competitive advantage.

WHEN THE WEB hit the mainstream in the mid-1990s, it transformed the behavior of customers and remade whole industries. Now, as part of its promise to bring revolutionary change in untold ways to human activity, artificial intelligence-AIis about to create another complete transformation in how companies create and deliver value to customers. But despite the billions spent so far on bots and other tools, AI continues to stumble. Why can't it magically use all the data that organizations generate to make them run faster and better? Something is missing.

An ontology is a holistic digital model of every piece of information that matters to the business, from processes to products to people, and it's what makes the difference between the promise of AI and delivering on that promise.

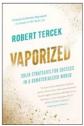

Business leaders who want to catch the AI wave—rather than be crushed by it—need to read The AI-Powered Enterprise. This book is the first to combine a sophisticated explanation of how AI works with a practical approach to applying AI to the problems of business, from customer experience to business operations to product development.

SETH EARLEY is CEO of Earley Information Science (EIS), a leading consulting firm focused on organizing information for business impact, with expertise in knowledge strategy, data and information architecture, search-based applications, and information findability solutions. Earley lives in Carlisle, Massachusetts.

ROOTED, RESILIENT, AND READY

Empowering Teen Girls as They Grow

LINDSAY SEALEY

Lindsay Sealey, author of Growing Strong Girls, shows parents how to help—and how not to hinder—the healthy development of their teenage daughters.

IN ROOTED, RESILIENT, AND READY, Sealey offers a fresh take on the complex teen girl years. Today's teen girls face pressures such as mounting demands to be both successful and attractive, addictions to social media and the approval of others, and an increase in mental health concerns. These pressures can result in a damaging decline in personal satisfaction and self-esteem.

In this book, Sealey flips the script to look at girls' lives from the inside out. With clarity and empathy, she balances research with practical advice and interviews to talk about how teen girls navigate issues of identity, body image, mental health, relationships, sexualization, and preparing for the future. Through it all Sealey advises parents how to help and how not to hinder the process of their daughters' development even though parents may often feel out of step with them.

Journeying with teen girls from lost and let-down to fierce and fearless, Rooted, Resilient, and Ready offers parents the tools to help their daughters step in and stay rooted in the circle of their own power and choose progress over perfection, security over uncertainty, and authenticity over conformity.

LINDSAY SEALEY is the author of Growing Strong Girls and founder of Bold New Girls and Brave New Boys—a unique teaching and coaching company. She is also a passionate keynote speaker, consultant, and workshop facilitator for students, teachers, and parents. Sealey is a contributor to the Globe and Mail, HuffPost Canada, and Spoke.

PARENTING RIGHT FROM THE START

Laying a Healthy Foundation in the Baby and Toddler Years

DR. VANESSA LAPOINTE

In her follow-up to the bestselling book Discipline Without Damage, Dr. Vanessa Lapointe advises new parents on how to put their child on a path to optimal development during the crucial early years.

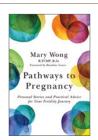

THE BABY AND toddler years are the most important period for any child's emotional and psychological development. Parents naturally want to do what's best for their kids, but they often struggle to know what that is, especially when dealing with the big "battlegrounds" of sleep, feeding, and managing aggression. Becoming a parent can also present a huge internal-growth opportunity for adults as parents find themselves plunged back into their own childhoods, which can bring up problematic feelings, attitudes, and behaviors.

The latest scientific research indicates that it is through a strong sense of connection to their parents that children learn how to regulate their emotions, master social skills, and develop a sense of identity. Unfortunately, many currently accepted parenting practices and traditional attitudes disrupt a healthy connection rather than foster it, leading to problems that can last into adulthood.

Dr. Lapointe helps parents to understand how mindful and conscious parenting can help them to avoid passing unhealthy patterns down from one generation to the next. Rooted in compassion and understanding, this book shows parents how to build a firm, caring presence in the early years that a child can lean into for a lifetime.

DR. VANESSA LAPOINTE is a registered psychologist and founder of the Wishing Star and Lapointe Developmental Clinic. She has supported families and children for more than fifteen years and is a sought-after lecturer. She lives in Vancouver, Canada, with her two sons.

EDITED BY

STACEY MAY FOWLES & JEN SOOKFONG LEE

THE MYSTERIES OF NATURE

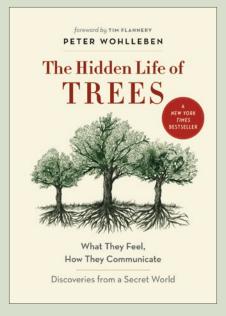

A Peter Wohlleben Trilogy

ISBN 978-1-77164-301-6

"A natural follow-on to 'Trees' and just as beautifully questions human assumptions about nature."

WASHINGTON POST

"A veritable tree whisperer, Mr. Wohlleben projects an irresistible enthusiasm for his subject."

WALL STREET JOURNAL

"Wohlleben conveys his findings in passages of pure poetry; he truly is an author to treasure."

BOOKLIST

"Peter Wohlleben shows us the secret, sacred relationships among living beings on this miraculous planet"

CARL SAFINA
